SCRIPT 1 OF 5

FEED + AD

NUTRITION Q&A · VIDEO SCRIPT

How Much Protein Do You Actually Need?

Talking Head · Yapping · Nutrition

FORMAT	LENGTH	CHANNEL	DM KEYWORD
Talking Head	30-45 sec	IG Feed + Meta Ads	PROTEIN

01 THE HOOK

“Hungry by 10am? You're making the most common protein mistake there is.”

02 CORE MESSAGE

Dinner is usually fine. Breakfast is where it falls apart: a bagel and a coffee is maybe 10 grams of protein, and by mid-morning you're already looking for a snack.

The 0.8 grams per kilo you've probably heard is the minimum to avoid a deficiency, not the amount that keeps you full. Most active adults do better closer to 1.2 to 1.6.

The simple version: 25 to 40 grams per meal. For breakfast, that's three eggs with a cup of Greek yogurt, or a protein shake with your coffee.

Fix that one meal, and the 10am hunger usually goes away with it.

I'm Nate, nutrition coach.

03 CALL TO ACTION

“Send me a message with the word PROTEIN and tell me what you eat for breakfast. I'll tell you exactly how to hit your number.”

SCRIPT 2 OF 5

ORGANIC

NUTRITION Q&A · VIDEO SCRIPT

Is Fibermaxxing Actually Healthy?

Talking Head · Yapping · 2026 trend

FORMAT	LENGTH	CHANNEL	GOAL
Talking Head	30-45 sec	IG Feed (organic)	Comments

01 THE HOOK

“Fibermaxxing works. But start it like most people do and you'll regret it by tomorrow.”

02 CORE MESSAGE

The trend itself is great. Most adults get about half the fiber they need, and fiber is a big part of what keeps a meal from disappearing an hour later.

The target: roughly 25 grams a day for women, and 30 to 38 for men.

The regret part is going from 10 grams to 50 overnight. That's two days of bloating and cramps, and most people quit right there.

Do it like this instead: add about 5 grams a week, drink more water as you go, and get it from food first. A cup of raspberries has about 8 grams. Half a cup of black beans, around 7. A tablespoon of chia, about 4.

Slow and steady is the whole trick.

03 QUESTION FOR THE AUDIENCE

“What's your go-to high-fiber food? Drop it in the comments and I'll tell you if it's actually doing the job.”

SCRIPT 3 OF 5

ORGANIC

NUTRITION Q&A · VIDEO SCRIPT

Are Seed Oils Actually Bad For You?

Talking Head · Yapping · Myth vs. truth

FORMAT	LENGTH	CHANNEL	GOAL
Talking Head	30-45 sec	IG Feed (organic)	Comments

01 THE HOOK

“You cut seed oils and felt better. The oil wasn't the reason.”

02 CORE MESSAGE

Think about what usually goes when people cut seed oils: fries, chips, fast food, pastries, packaged snacks. Of course they feel better.

The oil itself? The research doesn't back the fear. Studies that replace saturated fat with oils like canola or soybean tend to show better cholesterol, not worse.

So the problem was never the bottle of canola oil in your kitchen. It was the deep fryer, and how often you were eating from it.

Cook at home with olive or canola oil, and put your energy into eating less fried and packaged food. That's the part that actually made the difference.

03 QUESTION FOR THE AUDIENCE

“So be honest: when you cut seed oils, what else did you cut? Tell me in the comments.”

SCRIPT 4 OF 5

ORGANIC ONLY

NUTRITION Q&A · VIDEO SCRIPT

Should You Take Creatine?

Talking Head · Yapping · Supplements

FORMAT	LENGTH	CHANNEL	GOAL
Talking Head	30-45 sec	IG Feed (organic)	Comments

01 THE HOOK

"If you only take one supplement this year, make it this one. Here's why."

02 CORE MESSAGE

It's creatine. And no, it's not just for bodybuilders.

It's one of the most researched supplements out there, and today people of every age use it to recover better and keep their strength up.

How to take it: 3 to 5 grams of creatine monohydrate a day, every day. No loading phase, no perfect timing. Mix it into water, coffee or a shake.

The scale might go up a pound or two at first. That's water stored in your muscles, not fat, so don't panic and quit.

If you have kidney issues or take medication, check with your doctor first.

03 QUESTION FOR THE AUDIENCE

"Are you already taking creatine, or is something holding you back? Tell me in the comments and I'll answer every one."

SCRIPT 5 OF 5

FEED + AD

NUTRITION Q&A · VIDEO SCRIPT

Are Ultra-Processed Foods Really That Bad?

Talking Head · Yapping · Myth vs. truth

FORMAT	LENGTH	CHANNEL	DM KEYWORD
Talking Head	30-45 sec	IG Feed + Meta Ads	REAL

01 THE HOOK

“Cut every ultra-processed food and you'll quit in two weeks. Do this instead.”

02 CORE MESSAGE

Zero processed food sounds great, until you have a job, a family and a Tuesday night with nothing in the fridge. That's when the plan breaks.

And ‘ultra-processed’ covers more than soda and candy. Some whole-grain breads, flavored Greek yogurt and protein bars are on that list too. A protein bar and a donut are not the same food.

So aim for most of your plate to be real food: meat, fish, eggs, fruit, veggies, rice, potatoes.

For the rest, ask one question when you grab something packaged: does this bring protein or fiber with it? If it does, it can stay.

Better most of the time beats perfect for two weeks.

03 CALL TO ACTION

“Send me a message with the word REAL and tell me the packaged foods you buy every week. I'll tell you which ones I'd keep and which I'd swap.”